HOME IN A MONTH

Kirkwall, Scotland, July 30. (INS.)
—The United States army round-the-world aviators, led by Lieut. Lowell Smith, arrived at Houton Bay at 4 o'clock this afternoon, completing the journey from Brough, England, in five hours and 35 minutes.

The coast line distance between the two points is 370 miles but the airmen took a roundabout course owing to murky weather.

Brough, Eng., July 30.—Having traveled approximately three fourths of the way around the world in their historic flight, the United States army flyers headed by Lieut. Lowell M. Smith, turned their faces toward home today.

The six intrepid American aviators traveling in three machines left Brough at 10:25 o'clock for Kirkwall in the Orkney Islands off Scotland. The weather was good and the airmen expected to reach the Island port early in the afternoon.

The Americans plan to rest overnight at Kirkwall, replenishing their supplies. If weather conditions are good they will leave tomorrow for Iceland, making two stops on that ice bound island.

Last Big Hazard

The jump off, starting today is regarded as the "last" lap of the American's globe girdling flight although they will have to traverse the American continent after crossing the Atlantic ocean from Iceland.

The entire flight, owing to necessary diversions, is about 27,000 miles in distance. The airmen have accomplished approximately 20,000 miles leaving 7,000 miles yet to be traveled.

Just before the flyers left, the American mail arrived accompanied by a large package from London containing shirts from a fashionable Bond Street store.

No Pink Tea
Lieut. Smith scanned the list of contents and laughed as he commented:

"Put them away. No time now. We have no room for haberdashery upon the airplanes. Guess we will have to mail them to the United States."

In addition to the shirts there were shoes and neckties in the package.

Day dawned misty at Brough but there was only a light wind.

Engine Balky

The Americans were up early scanning the horizon. The motors were quickly overhauled and the airmen after a light breakfast took their places.

Smith's engine proved balky. It began to miss fire and the American commander feared to attempt to rise from the waters of the Humber estuary. Smith was compelled to "taxi" about seven miles down the stream towards the sea before he rose into the air.

Both sides of the stream were filled with shipping and a considerable number of spectators were on the banks. As Smith rose into the air a faint cheer went up.

British Cheer
"Goodbye, Yankee" cried the Britons as the airplane soared upward like a huge seagull.

While Smith was maneuvering in the water his five companions in their two planes were hovering over Mead, wondering if their start was again to be delayed.

Lieut. Erik Nelson and his companions in the air listened with trepidation to the spasmodic coughing of Smith's motor. Finally it settled down into a steady roar and the bow of the plane lifted from the Humber's surface. The engine was working well as the three planes headed

LIGHTNING BOLT KILLS ALTOONA WOMAN AS SHE STANDS IN KITCHEN DRAWING WATER FROM SINK SPIGOT

Altoona, July 30.—With her hand on the spigot, in the act of drawing water, Mrs. Mary Walters, 23, was killed during a storm when lightning struck a tree near her home at Ore Hill, here. Electricity followed the waterpipe into the house.

JUDGE CAVERLY HAS DECIDED TO HEAR THE ALIENISTS

Criminal Court, Chicago, July 29.
—Nathan F. Leopold, Jr., and Richard A. Loeb won their legal engagement today in the effort that their wealthy families are making to save them from going to the gallows for the murder of little Bobby Franks.

Justice John R. Caverly, sitting as the sole Judge of their fate, ruled that their attorneys could put on the witness stand alienists and men of medical science to testify concerning the mental, moral and pathological character of the two collegians.

SIKI MAY BE DEPORTED BACK TO FRANCE

Washington, July 30 (INS.)
—An investigation looking to the possible deportation of Battling Siki, Sengalese prize fighter, was ordered today by the department of Labor.
Siki's recent marriage in New York city led to the inquiry in view of reports that he has another wife in Europe. If it develops that Siki has committed bigamy he will be sent back to France officials said.

Tells Authorities He Killed Cincinnati Girl On March 14, 1922

New York, July 30 (INS.)—Chas. Flynn, railroad clerk at Westbridge-water, Penna., was held on a short affidavit charging suspicion that he killed Miss Marie Richards, of Cincinnati, on or about March 14, 1922 by hitting her on the head with an iron bar and throwing her into the Ohio river at Steubenville, Ohio.

Flynn, according to Brooklyn police, confessed the murder yesterday. Police said Flynn told them he met the girl at Steubenville and they talked about marriage. Shortly after that, according to the alleged confession, he attacked her, she resisted, and he hit her on the head with an iron bar and threw her body into the river. His conscience bothered him, however, he said, and he came to New York and gave himself up in Brooklyn because his divorced wife, Gertrude Flynn, lived there.

Police have communicated with the Ohio authorities.

MAC'S BROTHER BOLTS DAVIS AND APPROVES "BOB"

Chicago, July 30 (INS.)—Malcolm R. McAdoo, brother of William Gibbs McAdoo, runner up for the Democratic Presidential Nomination in the epoch marking New York Convention deadlock, today bolted the Democratic ticket and announced he would support Senator Robert M. La Follette, Independent Presidential candidate, and his running mate, Senator Burton Wheeler, of Montana.

Announcement of his stand was contained in a letter to a prominent Chicago Democrat.

PLEADING INSANITY WITHOUT SAYING SO IS DARROW METHOD

By GEORGE R. HOLMES
(I. N. S. Staff Correspondent)

Chicago, July 30.—The real fight in the Leopold-Loeb trial began today.

It is a fight to save from the gallows the young collegians who kidnapped and murdered little Bobby Franks.

"Just for a thrill." Their shrewd lawyers and their high priced alienists are going to show them to be insane, mentally queer, morally twisted—all without ever using the word "insane."

That word is "verboten." It became so from the time that "Angel Face" Dickey and "Babe" stood before Judge John R. Caverly ten days ago and calmly and unemotionally told him they pleaded guilty to the crime.

By confessing and pleading guilty they admitted their legal responsibility for the act. They were put on trial then as sane men. They threw themselves on the mercy of the court, rejected a jury and elected to take their chances with one man, Judge Caverly.

But the half dozen alienists retained by their wealthy families were nevertheless ready and waiting today to take the stand and swear that in their opinion Nathan Leopold, Jr., and Richard A. Loeb are and have been "wrong" from childhood. Not insane from a legal standpoint, but "queer," "abnormal," "brilliantly irrational."

How far the alienists will be allowed to go rests, as does the fate of the boys, with one man, Judge Caverly.

The opinions and conclusions as to the mental, moral and emotional make-up of the two slayers constitute the "mitigating circumstances" which their attorneys and their families hope Judge Caverly will take into consideration when arriving at his decision. They want to convince the court that these boys are not normal despite the admitted brilliance of their intellects.

There has been nothing like it in the history of American jurisprudence.

The responsibility on Judge Caverly is enormous.

The state forces will oppose the alienists' efforts to make Leopold and Loeb insane.

"There is no degree of mental responsibility," State's Attorney Crowe declared. "They are sane or they are insane. They admitted their sanity when they pleaded guilty. If they are sane as they have admitted before the bar, then they could be sent to the scaffold. If they are insane they should put their case before a jury."

Dr. Bernard Guleck, of New York, one of the defense array of alienists, examined the youthful slayers in the jail this morning before court opened. He could not see that they were "weakening" in any way.

The crowd that flocked the courtroom today was even greater than on succeeding days. Bailiffs and deputies had hard work to control them.

Dr. Guleck was joined in his examination by Doctors Ralph Hamill, of Chicago and Dr. White.

Both boys were closeted with the doctors in a special room for more than an hour, and when they emerged they were perspiring profusely.

As soon as the state had rested, Darrow asked Crowe to go ahead with the evidence in the kidnapping charge but Judge Caverly said that he thought it better for both sides to complete the murder charge, before taking up the kidnapping charge.

Don't Beat Your Wife If You Have A Still Running In Your House

Beaver Falls, Pa., July 30. (INS.)
—"Don't beat your wife if you have a still in the house," Lewis Peterson advised several policemen as he was lodged in North Sawickley borough "calaboose" in default of bond.
Mrs. Peterson complained to authorities that her husband had beaten her and put her out of the house because she objected to a still in her kitchen.

Peterson was arrested and charged with manufacturing and possessing liquor.

A RESUME OF CITY PAVING AND SEWAGE PROJECTS RECENTLY COMPLETED, NOW UNDER CONSTRUCTION AND PROJECTED

Foreman R. D. Sheehy and his crew, having completed the paving of Front street as far south as Walnut, moved their equipment to the postoffice alley and have begun the paving of that important thoroughfare which extends through from Market to Cherry street.

When this job is completed the paving of Locust street will be taken up and the alley extending from Pine street to Reed, between Second and Third streets will be paved at the completion of the Locust street job.

All of this paving is being done under the plan inaugurated by Council several years ago, which requires that on all alleys and interior streets the property owners shall pay two-thirds the cost of the improvement.

The property owners on Pine street in the block extending from Second to Third streets presented a petition to Council at its last meeting asking that this street be paved between the points mentioned, and this improvement will doubtless be favorably passed upon by Council at its meeting on Monday evening, August 4th.

The street paving activities are being carried on under the direction of Chairman Beahan of the Highway Department of Council. Chairman Adams of the Sewer Department also has a crew at work under Foreman W. H. Holt putting in some needed sewers about the town. They completed the long-awaited Linden street sewer last week and finished up yesterday a storm water relief drain in the postoffice alley extending from Cherry street to connect with the proposed 24-inch storm water sewer on Market street.

This 24-inch Market street storm of surface water sewer will extend from Fourth street to the river and is designed to put an end to the intolerable condition ever-existent on Fourth street when the spring and fall wet weather comes. The new sewer will also do away with flooded streets at Market and Second and Market and Third streets for all time to come.

This sewer has long been a crying need and its building is one of the most necessary improvements to be made about the town.

It was intended to begin the work of building this sewer this morning but on account of some difficulty over location with the Market Street Auto Sales Company the work was suspended until property rights at the river's edge were finally determined.

The Market street people claim to own all the land from Water street through to the river. Their deed calls for all of that, while the original plan or plot of lots does not correspond therewith. In order to determine and protect their rights in the matter Messrs. McGinnis and McCleod very properly notified Council that they would hold the borough liable for any injury, damage or loss sustained by them by the building of the sewer through their premises, as they claim.

They also protest against the route of the sewer as laid out by the borough engineer, hence the building of the sewer will be held up until these questions are settled satisfactorily, which it is thought will be done before the end of the week.

BOY, GET OUT THE GAS MASK; JOHN, CAL AND BOB ARE ALL GOING TO PUT OVER A HEAVY BARRAGE OF ORALITY

By H. K. REYNOLDS
I. N. S. Staff Correspondent.

Washington, July 30.—The country is to be administered an extra heavy dose of political "spellbinding" during the Presidential campaign. Plans announced in three leading Presidential camps—Republican, Democratic, and Progressive—indicated that stump speaking would be more popular this year than even during the campaign of 1922 when three tickets likewise were in the race for the White House.

In the La Follette-Wheeler camp particular stress is being placed on the mobilization of a veritable army of speakers. La Follette shortly will name a chairman of a Speakers Bureau, which will be set up in Chicago.

Not to be in the least outdone, Republican National Headquarters here declared that a host of speakers would be despatched into every state about the first week in September to carry on the campaign of President Coolidge and General Dawes.

Dawes himself will make a leading part in the Republican "stumping," the

Com'encement Exercises Of Vacation Bible School Of Interest To Everyone

For the past three weeks there has been going on in Clearfield what is known as a Vacation Bible School to which there have been a total of 440 youngsters of Sunday School age going each morning. They are taught by a corps of especially trained instructors who have been able to keep the enthusiasm of the youngsters at a high pitch. The curriculum includes about all that youths of the age can digest and the progress that they have been making is remarkable. At the conclusion of the school term, which ends Friday, a graduation or commencement exercise is always given in which the pupils are given an opportunity to show what they have absorbed in the way of Biblical knowledge during the term. In this instance the exercises will be held at Trinity Church tomorrow evening at 7:30 o'clock. Sessions have been held during the three weeks in four of the city churches but the commencement exercises will be held at Trinity as that is the only edifice large enough to accommodate the crowd that will attend.

Parents who have children attending the school will and ought to be especially interested in this commencement exercise. In this brief space of time their children have learned an amazing amount of Bible history as well as having committed to memory those "high marks" of Christianity which stand out boldly in type. In addition to giving a recital which will demonstrate their knowledge of the Bible, great preparations have been made on a playlet entitled "Finding the Cross."

In this playlet practically all of the students take a part and those who have witnessed the rehearsals have taken occasion to remind The Progress that it is our duty to call the attention of our readers to tomorrow night's commencement exercises.

Miss Rothrock, Supt. at the Clearfield hospital, is at her home in Philadelphia.

JESSE SMITH DIDN'T SLAM CLEARFIELD'S GREATEST PRODUCT

Neither Is He Coconut
Headed For We Saw
Him Yesterday; Writer
On 'Sun' Caused It All.

DRAIT THE WRITER!

Some time ago we lamped a base slander of Clearfield's brick streets in an issue of the Williamsport Sun. The statement which reflected so unflatteringly upon our streets and was designed, as we believed, to injure Clearfield brick (than which there is nothing better as a material with which to pave for an everlasting job), was imputed to one Jesse Smith, of Biltown, by the reporter who attended a meeting of interested citizens who favored asphalt for the covering of a street in their section of the city, but which the city council had ordained should be paved with brick.

We were at once moved to anger and compelled by our rising choler to take our w. k. pen in hand and indite a mild protest at such unseemly and untrue statement. In the course of said statement we made certain references to the aforementioned Jesse Smith, together with divers and sundry individual comparisons. Believing we knew the kind of man who would utter such falsehoods as we were led to believe by the article Mr. Smith had made use of, we characterized or styled him as a "coconut headed statesman." We desire herewith and now to recall, take back and retract such statement. Jesse Smith called upon us yesterday in our sanctum and after introducing himself gave us the privilege of looking over and examining him from every angle and we rise to remark that Smith is neither "coconut headed" nor a statesman. Instead he is a sober-minded, well-balanced business man and a good fellow to boot. In fact he is an architect and builder of the finest pretzels that ever bore salt or accompanied a stein of lager, before that rantin', rarin' Andy Volstead swept down upon us from Minnesota's bleak moors.

Smith informed us he was misquoted from stem to stern of his remarks when he went to the bat for asphalt, and blamed our misinformation on the misquotation of the "fat-headed" (we'll never take that back) reporter who listened in and reported the talk. Smith also said the street to be paved was in his end of Biltown, a residence section, and that the people out that way want an asphalt street because sheet asphalt when properly laid gave a smooth and uniform surface, was therefore capable of being easily cleaned and in addition to that was noiseless. In proof of the assertion that his neighbors wanted asphalt Smith presented us with a copy of Monday night's Williamsport Gazette and Bulletin, which has been conducting a popular or free-will voting contest on the question of the material to be used in paving the street, a blank ballot for this purpose being carried in that paper each morning.

The vote up to Tuesday morning showed 1247 recorded as favoring asphalt, while but 32 voted for brick.

Smith also said before leaving that

Overture "Stradella" Will Be Feature Of Tomorrow's Concert

The American Legion Band will give another of their delightful and varied concerts at the Clearfield Park tomorrow evening, beginning at 7:30. The band will be under the direction of Prof. Thayer and the program mapped out at last night's rehearsals of the band will be pleasing to every musical taste.

One of the best numbers on the program will be the famous Plotow overture "Stradella" which has been one of the feature overtures of the band for several prize winning contests. It was played at the Picnic and won for the band not only a first prize from the musical critic who judged the contest but round after round of applause from the audience.

Two Heart-Broken Fathers

ODDS AND ENDS AND THINGS

By J. D. C.

President John Brophy, of District No. 2, U. M. W. of A., who is a member of the Executive Committee of the La Follette-Wheeler forces in Pennsylvania, and his fellow-workers in the Conference for Progressive Political Action have issued a call for a meeting of all the forces in this Congress District interested in the movement that has resulted in the organization of La Follette's Progressive party.

This meeting will be held in Reilly's hall on Third Street on Sunday, August 10th. Invitations to send delegations of two persons have been sent to every labor and Grange organization within the counties of Cameron, Clarion, Center and McKean, which make up the Twenty-third Congressional District and it is expected that there will be a large attendance at this meeting which will result in the perfecting of a working organization in every district in this four counties.

In addition to the Labor Unions and Grangers, the Ladies' Auxiliaries of such organizations will also be invited to send delegates to the meeting.

The call follows:

To Organizations of Labor, Farmers, Co-Operative Societies and other Progressive groups of the 23rd Congressional District, composed of Clearfield, Centre, Cameron and McKean counties.

Greeting—
The failure of the two major parties to advance or to conserve the interests of the great body of American people has united a large group of progressive forward looking men and women in the Conference for Progressive Political Action.

On July 4th and 5th, 1924, a National Conference met at Cleveland and endorsed the candidacy of Robert M. La Follette for President, and adopted a platform embodying these principles:

"Prompt ratification of Child Labor Amendment. Removal of legal discrimination against women.

Election of Federal Judges and abolition of injunctions in labor disputes. Curbing power of Courts.

Adequate laws to guarantee to farmers and industrial workers the right to organize and bargain collectively.

Repeal of the Esch-Cummins Law. Public ownership of railroads and water power. Conservation of natural resources.

Creation of a Government Marketing Corporation for farmers.

Promotion of public works in time of depression.

Reconstruction of Federal Reserve System and Co-Operative banking.

Surveys on large incomes; taxes on excess profits; on stock dividends and undistributed profits.

International action to outlaw war. Absolute prohibition and lavish expenditure on armaments.

On July 21, a State Conference for Progressive Political Action was held at Harrisburg at which time Burton K. Wheeler was endorsed as Vice-Presidential candidate to run with Senator La Follette. This conference into the breeze flying northward towards the Scottish coast at terrific speed. Out on board his flagship, the Richmond, Rear Admiral Thomas P. MaGruder of the United States navy, was keeping a weather eye upon the horizon along the rim of Houston Bay. The Admiral, who is in command of the American patrol ships strung across the North Atlantic had reported weather conditions favorable and he wanted to see the Americans safe at Kirkwall before any unexpected squall should blow up.

Will Follow Coast

Before leaving, Lieut. Smith told International News Service correspondents that he expected to go on ahead.

"The only trouble I see ahead for us is the jump between Greenland and Labrador," continued Smith. "We are bound to encounter ice in that desolate track of sea but we have weathered Alaskan blizzards and Asiatic monsoons so we feel more or less acclimated by any thing the North Atlantic may hold in store for us. We do not really fear the ice but we are anxious to see what effect it will have upon flying conditions."

"The plans of the United States navy and especially Rear Admiral MaGruder of the light cruiser and destroyer division, are as near perfect as anything human could be. I don't see how anything could possibly go amiss. We aviators are all in perfect health and are keen for the adventure. We are willing to take a chance without taking a vain risk."

After Smith had concluded speaking he stepped into his plane. He waved his hands, took a huge bite out of a cake of chocolate he held in his hand and was off.

The distance from Brough to Kirkwall is 370 miles. The airmen had planned to float their machines at 5 o'clock, leaving at 7 o'clock for the Orkney's but weather conditions and a balky motor interfered.

JUSTICE SHIRAS VERY ILL

Pittsburgh, July 30—Little hope is held for the recovery of George Shiras, Jr., 92, former Associate Justice of the U. S. Supreme court, who is in a hospital with a broken hip, don't see how anything could possibly go amiss. We aviators are all in perfect health and are keen for the adventure. We are willing to take a chance without taking a vain risk."

Milk Is Mother's Ally Helps Her Guard the Health of Her Family

Mothers—you are the guardian of your family's health—you are the one who is responsible for the health of your little ones, the growing children, the adults and the older folks who come under your watchful care.

Now, just the same as the Chinese pay their physicians to keep their patients well rather than attend them when they are ill, you should look to a diet which will keep your brood growing lustily, and the adults in good health.

If you will use more milk in your cooking—if you will place before your family, dishes in which milk is the dominating ingredient, you will find that, even though they may object to drinking milk as a regular thing, they will eat the dishes prepared with it with a relish.

The investigators have estimated that every child should have a quart of milk daily, and that every adult should have a pint. This can be accomplished easily if you will serve dishes in which milk is used freely in their preparation.

Aristocratic Plumbing

compared with that of a half century ago is a revelation. The ordinary bathroom of today rivals that of a millionaire fifty years back, and yet every year marks further progress towards perfection in sanitary plumbing. This is the class of work we are ambitious to turn out right along, and we are succeeding.

PICNIC SUPPLIES

When you go on your picnics, you will find that it's much cheaper and far more convenient for you to use the paper dishes we have than to try and take any of the home china or silver.

All there is to washing the dishes or silver is to gather them up and touch a match to them. Then, too, you are assured that you will neither break or lose any of your home service, which would be well worth what it costs to use the paper service.

National Advertisers Boost Your Town!

Home Merchants Sell Quality Goods Only!

But, alas and alack, there are some few small towns that have failed to measure up to the standard set by their fellow communities. Their waywardness generally is predicted on the basis of its inhabitants for mail-order buying. Every now and then some town finds itself engulfed in a wave of "buying from a catalogue." A few influential men and women start on a panicky orgy of buying all their goods from the out-of-town, from-the-city merchandise shippers, and like the sheep on the plains, who follow their leader knowing not why, all the other townsfolk "go crazy" as well. Unless this uncalled for, unnecessary and thoughtless draining of the town's finances is soon checked, we see the sad spectacle of a ruined community with the best merchants leaving the town, public improvements at a standstill, banks on the ragged edge, civic consciousness gone on a vacation, all business in the dumps and a discontented and unhappy citizenry.

And the sad part about this disintegration of towns is that the poor, deluded home folks "get stung" in two directions. Not only do they see their town and their business crumble before their very eyes, but they find that they have been paying exorbitant prices from the catalogue sharks for an inferior lot of merchandise. They find that when the town has been bled white by these city money-grabbers, the town is abandoned and left to die or be restored to life and prosperity by the influence of some community doctor, who knows how to put a ruined town back on its feet.

This doctor often succeeds because he makes the townspeople see the error of their ways and impresses upon them in strong terms the significance of community loyalty, of community co-operation and unified home-loving activities. He makes them see beyond the result of one day's trade and makes them appreciate that there is something else in life besides money-making and money-saving. He makes them see the significance of buying all their goods from the home-town merchants and of bettering community conditions from a moral and educational standpoint.

He makes them understand that there is no good reason why they shouldn't purchase all their needs from the home merchants. He talks through the town's newspapers and from the public forum in the following fashion:

"Every community in the United States contributes to the privilege that Uncle Sam enjoys among the nations of the world. No class realizes this more than the big manufacturers of the country, who are also the national advertisers. They sell their trade-marked products to the small town merchants and then they back him up in his selling efforts by advertising liberally in the leading magazines and papers. They send the very best goods that they are capable of turning out to the shelves of the small town merchants because they know that the success of the small towns means their success. The reason is too obvious for extended explanation. The national advertising done by them is with a view to fixing in people's minds certain brands of merchandise so that they will ask for them and not accept cheap substitutes. The shelves, counter and bin of the home-town merchants are universally stocked with tested, nationally-advertised goods that have back of them the name and guarantee of the country's best and largest manufacturers. They are priced at the lowest possible figure, consistent with quality. Why, then, in the name of all logic, should you people send your cash in advance, out of town, for non-advertised, low quality, far-at-any-price stuff? You gain nothing and you lose all. You hurt your home merchant, which is a hurting

STILL BUILDING

The building boom goes right on. Though construction has slackened in some cities and sections, the country as a whole continues to build in more than normal volume. Building permits issued in 328 cities and towns during the first six months of this year amounted to nearly $2,000,000,000, representing a gain of 8 per cent over the corresponding period last year. The permits for last month were 10 per cent higher than for June 1923.

Generally speaking, the smaller communities have caught up with their building first. The greatest activity now is in the larger cities. There is talk in many such cities of an impending slackness, but few actual signs of it. Building materials have dropped a little, but labor costs as much as ever, and in some places more.

Thousands of builders and home-owners would give a good deal to know how long this situation is going to last. Surely the building deficit for the country as a whole must be made up before long, at the present rate. Yet it may be that the old standards of housing, office quarters, factory facilities, etc., have changed so much that it is going to take a great deal more building of all kinds to satisfy the normal demand henceforth.

If this is the case, there can be no early prospect of lower building costs, lower rent and lower prices for completed structures. There may be temporary slumps—as there are this summer in some places—but many keen building men and real estate men say they cannot foresee much change in the situation for years yet.

Dorsheimer Brothers Apply For Release From Lancaster Jail

Gap, Pa., July 30. (INS.)—Chester Dorsheimer, of Harrisburg, and his brother, Benjamin, of Atlantic City, this morning filed habeas corpus proceedings to be released from the Lancaster county jail, where they are being held on a charge of murder following a hearing here yesterday.

A hearing on the request will be held either Friday or Saturday.

The brothers at yesterday's hearing before Justice of the Peace Chester A. Diller were jointly accused of murdering their parents, 14 years ago.

The 14-year-old charges were made by Frank, another brother, who lives in Coatesville.

He testified that his brother, Chester, told him at a meeting in Harrisburg in 1910 that he didn't mind killing his father, but he "hated to kill his mother."

It was intimated today that counsel for the defense will bring counter charges against Frank accusing him of attempting to blackmail his brother, Chester. Col. John M. Groff, counsel for the defense, said that Frank had written numerous letters threatening to "expose him if he didn't coöperate."

Progress Editorials for Women

By ELORENCE DAVIES

A baseball writer tells about a couple of star players who never "make it look hard."

Larry work, if that's the case. For a trick of making our jobs look hard ordinary, says this observer.

Well, some of our women who are "so awfully busy" ought to watch Larry work, if that's the case. For a lot of us have just as pronounced a trick of making our jobs "look hard."

Don't you know the woman who is always rushed to death, always busy, always overworked?

Her friends always say, "Bess is so rushed," or "Bess just wears herself out."

By the way, perhaps you are one of these people who work too hard, who are always on the go, who never have time to draw a breath.

Let's stop and take stock. Are you really so busy? Do you really accomplish so much more than other folks, or do you just "make it look hard?"

Perhaps you are overworked. There's a chance that you are. A good many women with no help and bad families really are "simply rushed to death" and it isn't mere words.

Some people even make walking look hard. It's pleasanter and easier to make it look easy. The right way will make it seem, and actually be, just that.

Mount Gretna Sobers As Military Funeral Is Held For Private Hafer

Mount Gretna, Pa., July 30. (INS.)—The clackety-clack of horses' hooves as they galloped over the paved roads and the dull thud-thud as they sped over the beautiful green valleys and hills, echoed through the Mount Gretna district today.

Staid farmers laid down their tools in the fields to watch the well-drilled members of the 103rd and 104th cavalry as they sped past. And then, as a cantankerous mount broke file, and trampled mayhap a pet tomato plant, or brushed a rider against an apple tree, breaking a limb, shouts of righteous wrath mingled with the clanking of hoofs as the soldiers galloped on.

Orders to proceed at a gallop were frequent, to the sorrow and dismay of the recruits, who jogged from side to side and up and down on their mounts when at a walk, and shamelessly "pulled leather" when the pace was increased.

The road marches will be throughout the week.

Full military honors were accorded private Leroy W. Hafer, of Sunbury, the member of Troop E, 104th cavalry, who was fatally injured while practicing for a "Roman race" in which he was to represent his regiment in competition with the 103rd regiment's picked riders. He sustained a fractured skull and concussion of the brain when one of his galloping chargers stumbled and fell.

His body, in a flag-draped coffin, was carried past the ranks of his regimental comrades, standing stiffly at attention and placed aboard a train for his home.

All flags in the camp were at half-mast during the first military funeral services held here since the world war.

SENATOR WALSH OF MASS., ENDORSED BY NEW PARTY

BASEBALL DOPE

The Blue Ball Terrors lived up to their name and struck terror to the hearts of Manager Gus Tyson and his Clearfield Sewer Pipe Sluggers in a twilight game at the local park last evening. The game ended 12 to 8 in favor of the team from Blue Ball.

Defeated but undismayed and hoping for better luck next time, Manager Gus and his "sluggers" gave a grand ball in the union building at the park following the ending of the ball game. A large crowd was present and enjoyed the evening immensely. The financial condition of the team was somewhat improved as a result of the affair.

The local Red Men also met the Grampian Giants at the park last evening. The Red Men failed in their efforts to scalp the visitors, while, by the same token, the visitors were unable to get away with the Indians as the game ended in a tie, each team having three runs to its credit.

EPWORTH LEAGUERS ENJOY FIRE

About 50 members of the Epworth League of the West Side M. E. Church and their friends packed to "Spooky Hollow" on the Pooze farm above Paradise last evening and spent the evening in the open. A program of games kept everybody busy until the fire was built, when "eats" called for disposition. A routing sing around the fire ended the festivities and the happy crowd had trucked to town. Trekking over a deeply rutted road at night brings all sorts of thrills so that the Leaguers enjoyed the return trip as much as the camp fire.

Beginning with the first of August The Dimeling will be conducted entirely on the European Plan. This is in keeping with all the better hotels the country over and will enable us to give you better service than before.

SPECIAL SUNDAY DINNERS

Special dinners on each Sunday will be one of the features of the new plan. The dining room for these dinners will be open from 12:30 to 2:30 and from 6 to 8. Chicken, Duck and Turkey will be featured.

A LA CARTE SERVICE

This will be featured in the dining room daily and you will find the season's delicacies always on the menu.

Breakfast	Lunch	Dinner

TRUSTEE'S SALE OF REAL AND PERSONAL PROPERTY
THE QUALITY BAKERY
At the Court House, Clearfield, Pa. Friday August 8th, 1924, at 1:30 p. m. J. T. Murphy, Trustee of the Quality Bakery, fully constituted as such Trustee by deed of Olin C. Barger and wife dated November 22, 1923, and recorded in Clearfield County in Deed Book 265, page 216, will offer at public sale, at the front door of the Court House in Clearfield, Pa. on Friday, August 8, 1924, at 1:30 p. m., all the real and personal property constituting the Quality Bakery and consisting of the following:

1. All those two adjoining lots of ground situated in the Third Ward of the Borough of Clearfield, County of Clearfield, and State of Pennsylvania, known in the original plan of West Clearfield as lots No. 4 and No. 5, bounded and described as follows:

On the East by River Street, on the South by an alley; on the West by an alley and on the North by an alley. Being one hundred ten (110) feet front on River Street and two hundred (200) feet in depth, and being the same premises which were conveyed to Olin C. Barger and William E. Spackman by deed dated September 1, 1922, recorded in Clearfield County in Deed Book 255, page 413, and which by said Olin C. Barger and William E. Spackman were conveyed to J. T. Murphy, Trustee, by the deed of trust before mentioned.

Said lots being sold subject to the following liens: Mortgage of Olin C. Barger and William E. Spackman to Matthew Savage, now owned by H. L. Forney, dated September 9, 1922, recorded in Mortgage Book 72, page 178, the principal amount due thereon being the sum of $1900.00; Mechanic's Lien in favor of Effie Ferguson, Administratrix of Paul Ferguson, in the principal sum of $400.00, the same being entered in the Prothonotary's Office in Clearfield County on Mechanic's Lien Docket No. 6, page 428; Mortgage of Olin C. Barger and William E. Spackman to J. T. Murphy dated September 21, 1923 and recorded in Mortgage Book 76, page 143, for the principal sum of $7700.00.

The said real estate has erected thereon one concrete block building and includes one oven and furnace.

2. All the interest of the lessee in and to a certain lease for the lot of ground situated on Nichols Street in the Borough of Clearfield, Pa., on which is now erected the store building used in the business of said Quality Bakery, said lease having been made by Hartswick Smith to Olin C. Barger and William E. Spackman the 15th day of October, 1920, for a period of five years from November 1, 1920.

3. All the personal property of every kind whatsoever used in the business of said Quality Bakery and constituting a part thereof; including particularly one building erected on the leased premises above mentioned, one oven, one wrapping machine, one sifter, scales and mixer, one bread moulder, baskets, bread pans, troughs, racks, roll divider, work bench, cake mixer, adding machine, safe, store fixtures and other miscellaneous personal property; there being bailed leases outstanding as to various items of said personal property, and only the interest of the lessee in such items being offered for sale.

4. All the accounts receivable, bills receivable, cases in action, rights and credits of every kind and nature whatsoever of the said Quality Bakery whether the same shall have accrued prior to or since the delivery of the deed of trust to J. T. Murphy, Trustee. This sale is being made by virtue of the power vested in the Trustee by the deed of trust above mentioned, and further by virtue of the consent of fifty per cent. of the total number and amount of the creditors secured by said trust.

The above four items shall be offered for sale separately in the first instance and bids taken thereon and held, whereupon the entire property shall be offered as a whole and the same shall be sold, either by the items above mentioned or as a whole to the highest responsible bidder of bidders. The terms of the sale shall be twenty-five (25) per cent. cash at the time of sale and the balance upon delivery of conveyances of said property.

Judge Caverly Has Decided to Hear Alienists

angry and he pounded his fist in his hand as he spoke.

Judge Caverly broke in on him. He cited the case of a man named Rosen, who killed his wife a short time ago, and came up before him for sentence. Alienists in that case told Judge Caverly that Rosen was "on the border line of insanity" and he appointed three of their number to examine him. A plea of guilty was finally accepted and Rosen was sent to the state prison for the insane. The court said that was a precedent.

Crowe refused to agree to it and kept referring time and again to the statute. "It is mandatory, your honor," he shouted again and again.

"It is true, Mr. Crowe," said the court, "that when these boys pleaded guilty to this crime, the court accepted their pleas of guilty as sane men. But if evidence of their mental state is not to be taken, how is the court to know whether they were competent to plead guilty? Certainly I have a right to know whether these boys are competent. I cannot allow the attorneys here to waive the rights of these boys."

"Whenever, gentlemen, in the opinion of this court these boys are insane, the court will instruct the withdrawal of their plea of guilty, and the entering of a plea of not guilty."

"There are various forms of insanity," continued Judge Caverly.

"Not under the law," interrupted Crowe. "A man is either sane or he is insane. It is conceded for the sake of argument that insanity is a defense in this case. Have these boys any right to a defense in view of their plea of guilty? Have they the right to introduce testimony bearing on their mental state?"

Yes, reiterated the judge and the defense attorneys in unison.

These boys are not going to be allowed to plead insanity as a defense in this case," went on Judge Caverly, but this court certainly has the right to hear all the evidence in this case.

This court is not going to hear the question of sanity and insanity here."

"Yes, but the tendency is—" began Crowe.

"Oh, then you go again with tenor," interrupted the court.

"The court has said that it does not intend to hear the question of sanity and insanity here."

If there is a question of sanity in this case will be tried by a jury. But you can't escape the question of sanity or insanity," objected Crowe.

Well, we will try to," said the court.

The argument continued into the afternoon and the statutes, the state attorneys contending that under the laws of Illinois there was no other alternative for the court but to call a jury if the alienists were to be allowed to describe the youthful murderers as abnormal, queer, and of tainted moral and mental state.

The court listened patiently, interrupting now and then with a remark as to what the supreme court had said in such cases.

The famous Gene Geary case was cited. Geary was a notorious south-western gunman, who shot a policeman, and was sentenced to death. His attorneys contended that he became insane while awaiting execution and his case so that Geary is now in the state hospital for the criminal insane.

"Yes," said Judge Caverly, "and if Geary ever reaches sanity again it will then be the duty of the criminal court to set the date for his execution."

Crowe contended there "can be no mitigation in a crime as atrocious and brutal as this."

He asked sarcastically whether Leopold and Loeb had killed young Frank "in self-defense," or "in a state of rage," or "in a drunken brawl."

"No," he declared, answering his own questions.

"They took him out deliberately and a lie for no motive at all except brutality. In such a case there can be no mitigation."

"The question before this court is," remarked Judge Caverly, "have I the right to hear all the evidence in this case, or have I not?"

At the end of an hour the argument was in progress. The judge's bench was piled high with luminous law books, and the state's attorneys were reading excerpts from precedents and authorities. The principal spokesman for the state by this time was "Tom" Marshall, the authority on precedent expert of the state's attorney's office.

Darrow injected a word now and then, reiterating "we are not trying to plead insanity."

"You are setting up a plea of insanity under another name," said Marshall, "call it what you will."

"It is the state's contention this case is outside of the field of defense; it is not within the field of mercy. Why should they not hang?"

"We have the right," countered Attorney Bacharach, "to submit anything in the way of medical, mental, or pathological condition of these boys."

Sylvia Breth left today for Johnstown where she will visit a school friend for the next three weeks.

to the court for the court to weigh it as he will."

Time and again State's Attorney Crowe returned to the Illinois statute to which he originally referred, contending that Judge Caverly is without power to admit the testimony of the alienists.

"Any time there is a question of sanity or insanity," he said again and again, "the law is mandatory that your honor call a jury to determine that question."

"Oh, there you go again on the question of insanity," said Judge Caverly, throwing up his hands. "How many times does the court have to say that there is no plea of insanity."

"The court has the right to hear any evidence of mitigation in this case bearing on the mental responsibility of these boys."

"I don't know what the defense is going to do. I only know that they want to put a medical man on the stand to testify in the case. After it's all in, then I will consider it. No one knows what effect it will have."

Crowe asked Judge Caverly if he was not attempting to assume the prerogatives of a jury.

"Your honor is attempting to say that the plain words of the Illinois statutes do not mean judgment rendered by this court under these conditions will be void, and if Mr. Darrow takes the case to the supreme court, I will confess error."

"The court cannot help what you and Mr. Darrow do," said Judge Caverly.

"This is a waste of time, an hour and a half. The court is willing to listen to reason, or to any authority, but the court does not know of any authority which says that it cannot hear in mitigation any testimony touching on the case. It's ridiculous."

The argument was still going hot and heavy at 1:30 the hour usually set for a five minute recess and Judge Caverly stopped it and announced the usual set period would be observed. The lawyers remained in front of his bench arguing, but the judge retired to his chambers.

When the recess was over, Marshall, of the State's Attorneys office continued to read authorities in defense of the state contention. Caverly listened quietly.

A NIGHT BLOOMING CEREUS

One of those rare occasions which come but very seldom in the lives of some plants will be celebrated at the store of the Blacker Floral Shop some time tonight.

It will be the blossoming of a beautiful night blooming cereus, one of the specimens in the shop. There are at least half a dozen buds ready to break and it looks as if tonight's THE night. The public is cordially invited to witness this rare event.

Mrs. Bruce Paterson and son, William Logie, arrived home from Ocean City.

HONORED FINE OLD LADY

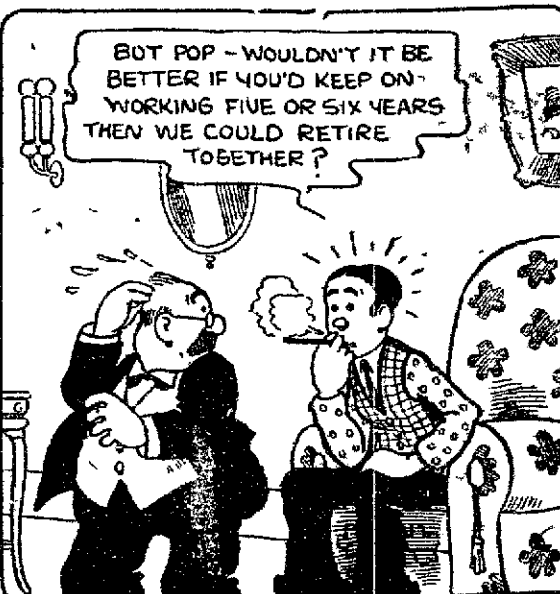

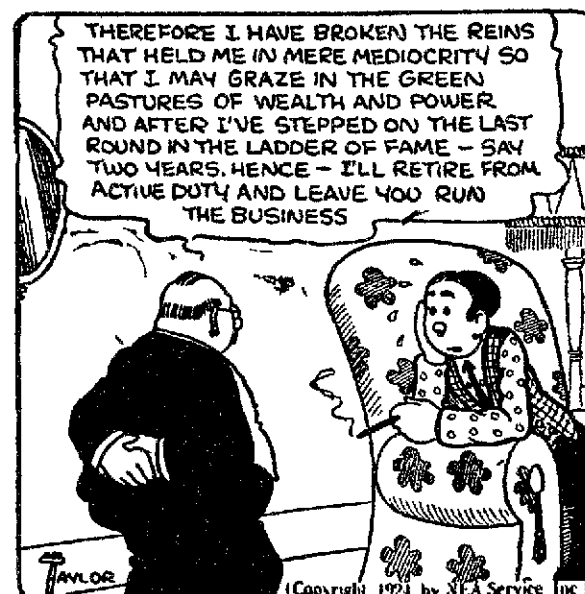

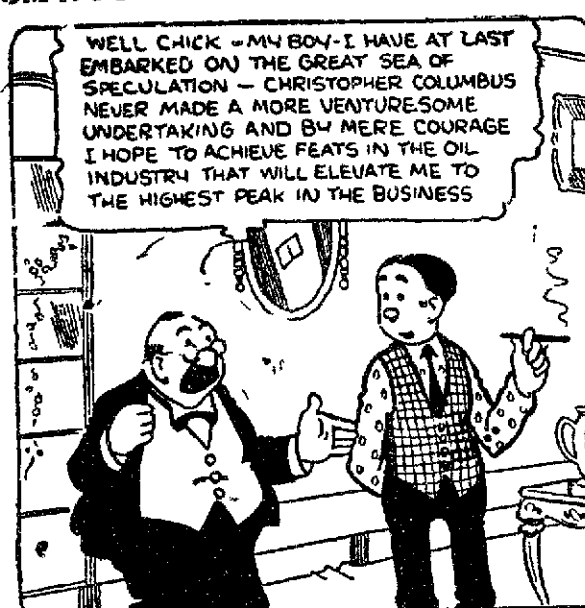

Ramey, July 28.—A family reunion was held at the home of Mrs. R. A. Fox on Saturday, July 26, 1924, in celebration of the 80th birthday of Mrs. Fox. This good lady has spent about all her four-score years in this locality, where she is loved and respected by all who know her. She possesses all her faculties practically unimpaired and appears more like a woman ten years younger than she really is. Wonderfully active, she seems to grow younger with each passing year.

She was the mother of ten children, three of whom have been called to their reward. Of the remaining seven all were present except one daughter, Mrs. R. A. Croyle, of Atlantic City.

These Results Mean Value Never Before Expected

The Phaeton

Never before was a car so wisely engineered and so carefully built to assure maximum safety and long life. This is true even to the tires. Designing from the ground up for balloon tires, with pivotal steering, special spring suspension and extra wide fenders, Chrysler engineers working with the tire makers have now evolved a special six-ply, high-speed balloon tire that will stand up and wear as long as your cord tires, and still contribute all the resiliency of ordinary balloon types.

The Touring, $1395 The Phaeton, $1495
The Roadster, 1625 The Sedan, 1725
The Brougham, 1895 The Imperial, 1995
All prices f. o. b. Detroit, tax extra.

In less than six months, more than 15,000 buyers have chosen the Chrysler Six because of the things it does, and the way it keeps on doing them with a minimum of upkeep cost.

Never before the Chrysler Six did a stock car afford 70 miles an hour or better, plus riding comfort not equalled even by heavy, costly cars.

Your Chrysler Six will actually carry you in comfort over cobbled streets or rutted roads at speeds up to 60 miles an hour. This because of three main features: its perfect balance, its special spring suspension which prevents side-sway, and its special six-ply, high-speed balloon tires.

We are pleased to extend the convenience of time-payments. Ask about Chrysler's attractive plan.

JORDAN'S

PHILIPSBURG IS HERE TOMORROW WITH BIG THIRST FOR REVENGE

The Philipsburg baseball team will meet the local C. & C. League team at the Clearfield Park tomorrow afternoon at 3:30 and as this is the first Thursday game in three weeks the fans should show their appreciation by turning out to the game. The boys are now playing at top speed, as will be attested by the fact that they swept the deck clean, winning every game played the past two weeks, and this good work should be appreciated by a full turnout of the fans.

Philipsburg is coming over thirsting for revenge. They will be accompanied by "Alibi Ike" McCabe, the new sports and news editor of the Philipsburg Ledger, and the only reporter extant who has the rind to blame the umpire for defeating his pets in a 12-2 game. Jack has hoped right out of the coal business into the editorial chair and will henceforth delve into gems of thought while his more rugged and more horny-handed neighbors attend to "dusky diamond" production.

The locals have been strengthened by addition of four new men. They are "Bicken" Norris and Olson of Curwensville, and Batchelor and Reid of Glen Richey. Two of the new men are catchers and can play either in or outfield, while one is a first baseman and one an outfielder. Norris is an ex-Dickinson player, while Batchelor, a local high graduate, has been playing baseball at State College.

MRS. GEORGE L. LEIPOLD

Mrs. Anna Benn Leipold, widow of the late George L. Leipold, one of Clearfield's oldest residents, died at the home of her son, Dr. Frank D. Leipold on Thursday morning, July 24, 1924, following an attack of jaundice which became complicated with other organic trouble. She was aged 78 years and 10 months.

Her death came as a great shock to her family and many friends to whom she was endeared. Despite her age, prior to her last illness, which was of four weeks duration, she was alert, keen of mind and active in the pursuits of life, appearing as one many years younger. She possessed a fine christian spirit, a kind and sweet disposition, always concerned about those near and dear to her, and never spoke ill of anyone. She was a life-long and devout member of the Lutheran Church and was active in all religious church work. Her presence acted as a ray of sunshine to her loved ones, therefore her death cast a gloom over her family and friends.

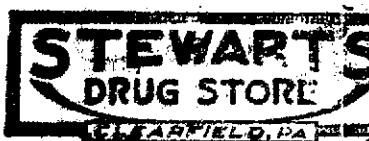

Deceased was the only daughter of John B. and Nancy Benn, who died 29 years ago. She had four brothers, two of whom died several years ago, and two still survive, C. M. and Leroy Benn, of Westfield, Pa.

When a young woman she came to Clearfield with her parents and on Nov. 4th, 1872, was united in marriage with George L. Leipold, who preceded her to the grave just 18 months ago. To this union two sons and one daughter were born. In addition to the two brothers named, she is survived by one son, Dr. Frank D. Leipold, of Clearfield, and one daughter, Mrs. V. N. Herbst, of Mt. Union, Pa., the eldest son, Dr. Bert E., having died in 1917.

The funeral took place on Saturday afternoon at 3 o'clock, interment in the family plot in Hillcrest cemetery. The Rev. J. W. Shannon, D. D., of Mt. Union, Pa., for several years her pastor, officiated.

VACATION BIBLE SCHOOL GRADUATION

Will be held tomorrow evening in Trinity Methodist Church. More than 350 boys and girls will participate. The program is one of the most varied and interesting that could be built. And the interest in the exercises has been maintained by both teacher and pupil. The evening promises to be filled by the most charming events and the most entertaining and instructive exercises. It will hardly be necessary for any special invitation to be given the public, when so many young people are interested. Their friends will be out in force. That is the reason Trinity Church was made the center of events for the school at its graduation—to accommodate the crowd. A silver offering will be asked for the picnic expenses.

What a great work this has been. Faithful have been the teachers. They have had an enthusiasm that has been cumulative. Then Prof. Ross has given the best of himself to the school and its oversight. But the one that has given it the largest care and the fullest service has been Rev. C. K. Gibson, of Eleventh Street Methodist Church.

The school with teachers and committees will leave the Presbyterian Church at 10 for a day in Irvin Park, returning at 5 in the afternoon. This is the picnic for which great preparations have been made and greater expectations have been in the minds of the young people. Those who have the credit of attendance are listed to go for this big day. Parents and friends of the school and its members will go up in their own way. Reuben Neveling and his committee provide transportation for the school.

START LAST LAP OF HISTORIC AIR TRIP ON EUROPEAN SOIL

Globe Flyers Off for the Orkney Islands Today;
Iceland Is Next Stop;
Having Excellent Luck.

HOME IN A MONTH

Kirkwall, Scotland, July 30. (INS.)
—The United States army round-the-world aviators, led by Lieut. Lowell Smith, arrived at Houton Bay at 4 o'clock this afternoon, completing the journey from Brough, England, in five hours and 35 minutes.

The coast line distance between the two points is 370 miles but the airmen took a roundabout course owing to murky weather.

By DAVID M. CHURCH
I. N. S. Staff Correspondent
Brough, Eng., July 30.—Having traveled approximately three fourths of the way around the world in their historic flight, the United States army flyers headed by Lieut. Lowell M. Smith, turned their faces toward home today.

The six intrepid American aviators traveling in three machines left Brough at 10:25 o'clock for Kirkwall in the Orkney Islands off Scotland. The weather was good and the airmen expected to reach the Island port early in the afternoon.

The Americans plan to rest overnight at Kirkwall, replenishing their supplies. If weather conditions are good they will leave tomorrow for Iceland, making two stops on that ice bound island.

Last Big Hazard

The jump off, starting today is regarded as the "last" lap of the American's globe girdling flight although they will have to traverse the American continent after crossing the Atlantic ocean from Iceland.

The entire flight, owing to necessary diversions, is about 27,000 miles in distance. The airmen have accomplished approximately 20,000 miles leaving 7,000 miles yet to be traveled.

Just before the flyers left, the American mail arrived accompanied by a large package from London containing shirts from a fashionable Bond Street store.

No Pink Tea
Lieut. Smith scanned the list of contents and laughed as he commented:

"Put them away. No time now. We have no room for haberdashery upon the airplanes. Guess we will have to mail them to the United States."

In addition to the shirts there were shoes and neckties in the package.

Day dawned misty at Brough but there was only a light wind.

Engine Balky

The Americans were up early scanning the horizon. The motors were quickly overhauled and the airmen after a light breakfast took their places.

Smith's engine proved balky. It began to miss fire and the American commander feared to attempt to rise from the waters of the Humber estuary. Smith was compelled to "taxi" about seven miles down the stream towards the sea before he rose into the air.

Both sides of the stream were filled with shipping and a considerable number of spectators were on the banks. As Smith rose into the air a faint cheer went up.

British Cheer
"Goodbye, Yankee" cried the Britons as the airplane soared upward like a huge seagull.

While Smith was maneuvering in the water his five companions in their two planes were hovering over Mead, wondering if their start was again to be delayed.

Lieut. Erik Nelson and his companions in the air listened with trepidation to the spasmodic coughing of Smith's motor. Finally it settled down into a steady roar and the bow of the plane lifted from the Humber's surface. The engine was working well as the three planes headed

JUDGE CAVERLY HAS DECIDED TO HEAR THE ALIENISTS

By GEORGE R. HOLMES
I. N. S. Staff Correspondent
Criminal Court, Chicago, July 29.
—Nathan F. Leopold, Jr., and Richard A. Loeb won their legal engagement today in the effort that their wealthy families are making to save them from going to the gallows for the murder of little Bobby Franks.

Justice John R. Caverly, sitting as the sole Judge of their fate, ruled that their attorneys could put on the witness stand alienists and men of medical science to testify concerning the mental, moral and pathological character of the two collegians.

By GEORGE R. HOLMES
I. N. S. Staff Correspondent
Criminal Court, Chicago, July 30.—The battle of the Alienists in the Leopold-Loeb case is on.

The state rested its case against Nathan Leopold, Jr., and Richard A. Loeb for the murder of little Bobby Franks within two minutes after court opened this morning, and the defense promptly put on the witness stand, Doctor William A. White, of Washington.

He was selected to lead off for the half dozen men of medical science who will try to save the young collegians from going to the gallows for the crime.

Just as soon as Doctor White had given his name and occupation States Attorney Crowe was on his feet, his face flushed and speaking rapidly, he protested vigorously against "any testimony in this trial touching upon the sanity or insanity of these defendants."

"Over-ruled" said Judge Caverly laconically.

Crowe flushed even more. "I want to be heard on that," he snapped.

"All right" said the court smoothly. "What is the defense trying to do here?" demanded Crowe, his voice at high pitch. "Are they trying to show these defendants insane?"

"From the moment your honor hears any evidence on insanity in this case, this becomes a mock trial, and any judgment that your honor renders is not worth the paper it is written on, for the Supreme Court will declare it in error."

Crowe pointed out that if Judge Caverly sentences Leopold and Loeb to prison for life the state has no appeal, the defendants have.

He hauled out the statutes of the state of Illinois and read to Judge Caverly one statute providing that when there is a question of sanity or insanity, a jury must be impaneled to hear the case and make the decision.

His voice was high pitched and —An investigation looking to the possible deportation of Battling Siki, Sengalese prize fighter, was ordered today by the department of Labor. Siki's recent marriage in New York city led to the inquiry in view of reports that he has another wife in Europe. If it develops that Siki has committed bigamy he will be sent back to France officials said.

Tells Authorities He Killed Cincinnati Girl On March 14, 1922

New York, July 30 (INS.)—Chas. Flynn, railroad clerk at Westbridge-water, Penna., was held on a short affidavit charging suspicion that he killed Miss Marie Richards, of Cincinnati, on or about March 14, 1922 by hitting her on the head with an iron bar and throwing her into the Ohio river at Steubenville, Ohio.

Flynn, according to Brooklyn police, confessed the murder yesterday. Police said Flynn told them he met the girl at Steubenville and they talked about marriage. Shortly after that, according to the alleged confession, he attacked her, she resisted, and he hit her on the head with an iron bar and threw her body into the river. His conscience bothered him, however, he said, and he came to New York and gave himself up in Brooklyn because his divorced wife, Gertrude Flynn, lived there.

Police have communicated with the Ohio authorities.

MAC'S BROTHER BOLTS DAVIS AND APPROVES "BOB"

McAdoo, brother of William Gibbs McAdoo, runner up for the Democratic Presidential Nomination in the epoch marking New York Convention deadlock, today bolted the Democratic ticket and announced he would support Senator Robert M. La Follette, Independent Presidential candidate, and his running mate, Senator Burton Wheeler, of Montana.

Announcement of his stand was contained in a letter to a prominent Chicago Democrat.

PLEADING INSANITY WITHOUT SAYING SO IS DARROW METHOD

By GEORGE R. HOLMES
(I. N. S. Staff Correspondent)

Chicago, July 30.—The real fight in the Leopold-Loeb trial began today.

It is a fight to save from the gallows the young collegians who kidnapped and murdered little Bobby Franks.

"Just for a thrill." Their shrewd lawyers and their high priced alienists are going to show them to be insane, mentally queer, morally twisted—all without ever using the word "insane."

That word is "verboten." It became so from the time that "Angel Face" Dickey and "Babe" stood before Judge John R. Caverly ten days ago and calmly and unemotionally told him they pleaded guilty to the crime.

By confessing and pleading guilty they admitted their legal responsibility for the act. They were put on trial then as sane men. They threw themselves on the mercy of the court, rejected a jury and elected to take their chances with one man, Judge Caverly.

But the half dozen alienists retained by their wealthy families were nevertheless ready and waiting today to take the stand and swear that in their opinion Nathan Leopold, Jr., and Richard A. Loeb are and have been "wrong" from childhood. Not insane from a legal standpoint, but "queer," "abnormal," "brilliantly irrational."

How far the alienists will be allowed to go rests, as does the fate of the boys, with one man, Judge Caverly.

The opinions and conclusions as to the mental, moral and emotional make-up of the two slayers constitute the "mitigating circumstances" which their attorneys and their families hope Judge Caverly will take into consideration when arriving at his decision. They want to convince the court that these boys are not normal despite the admitted brilliance of their intellects.

There has been nothing like it in the history of American jurisprudence.

The responsibility on Judge Caverly is enormous.

The state forces will oppose the alienists' efforts to make Leopold and Loeb insane.

"There is no degree of mental responsibility," State's Attorney Crowe declared. "They are sane or they are insane. They admitted their sanity when they pleaded guilty. If they are sane as they have admitted before the bar, then they could be sent to the scaffold. If they are insane they should put their case before a jury."

Dr. Bernard Guleck, of New York, one of the defense array of alienists, examined the youthful slayers in the jail this morning before court opened. He could not see that they were "weakening" in any way.

The crowd that flocked the courtroom today was even greater than on succeeding days. Bailiffs and deputies had hard work to control them.

Dr. Guleck was joined in his examination by Doctors Ralph Hamill, of Chicago and Dr. White.

Both boys were closeted with the doctors in a special room for more than an hour, and when they emerged they were perspiring profusely.

As soon as the state had rested, Darrow asked Crowe to go ahead with the evidence in the kidnapping charge but Judge Caverly said that he thought it better for both sides to complete the murder charge, before taking up the kidnapping charge.

Don't Beat Your Wife If You Have A Still Running In Your House

Beaver Falls, Pa., July 30. (INS.)
—"Don't beat your wife if you have a still in the house," Lewis Peterson advised several policemen as he was lodged in North Sawickley borough "calaboose" in default of bond.

Mrs. Peterson complained to authorities that her husband had beaten her and put her out of the house because she objected to a still in her kitchen.

Peterson was arrested and charged with manufacturing and possessing liquor.

A RESUME OF CITY PAVING AND SEWAGE PROJECTS RECENTLY COMPLETED, NOW UNDER CONSTRUCTION AND PROJECTED

Foreman R. D. Sheehy and his crew, having completed the paving of Front street as far south as Walnut, moved their equipment to the postoffice alley and have begun the paving of that important thoroughfare which extends through from Market to Cherry street.

When this job is completed the paving of Locust at 11th from Third to Fourth street will be taken up and the alley extending from Pine street to Reed, between Second and Third streets will be paved at the completion of the Locust street job.

All of this paving is being done under the plan inaugurated by Council several years ago, which requires that on all alleys and interior streets the property owners shall pay two-thirds the cost of the improvement.

The property owners on Pine street in the block extending from Second to Third streets presented a petition to Council at its last meeting asking that this street be paved between the points mentioned, and this improvement will doubtless be favorably passed upon by Council at its meeting on Monday evening, August 4th.

The street paving activities are being carried on under the direction of Chairman Beahan of the Highway Department of Council. Chairman Adams of the Sewer Department also has a crew at work under Foreman W. H. Holt putting in some needed sewers about the town. They completed the long-awaited Linden street sewer last week and finished up yesterday a storm water relief drain in the postoffice alley extending from Cherry street to connect with the proposed 24-inch storm water sewer on Market street.

This 24-inch Market street storm of surface water sewer will extend from Fourth street to the river and is designed to put an end to the intolerable condition ever-existent on Fourth street when the spring and fall wet weather comes. The new sewer will also do away with flooded streets at Market and Second and Market and Third streets for all time to come.

This sewer has long been a crying need and its building is one of the most necessary improvements to be made about the town.

It was intended to begin the work of building this sewer this morning but on account of some difficulty over location with the Market Street Auto Sales Company the work was suspended until property rights at the river's edge were finally determined.

The Market street people claim to own all the land from Water street through to the river. Their deed calls for all of that, while the original plan or plot of lots does not correspond therewith. In order to determine and protect their rights in the matter Messrs. McGinnis and McCleod very properly notified Council that they would hold the borough liable for any injury, damage or loss sustained by them by the building of the sewer through their premises, as they claim.

They also protest against the route of the sewer as laid out by the borough engineer, hence the building of the sewer will be held up until these questions are settled satisfactorily, which it is thought will be done before the end of the week.

JESSE SMITH DIDN'T SLAM CLEARFIELD'S GREATEST PRODUCT

Neither Is He Coconut
Headed For We Saw
Him Yesterday; Writer
On 'Sun' Caused It All.

DRAIT THE WRITER!

Some time ago we lamped a base slander of Clearfield's brick streets in an issue of the Williamsport Sun. The statement which reflected so unflatteringly upon our streets and was designed, as we believed, to injure Clearfield brick (than which there is nothing better as a material with which to pave for an everlasting job), was imputed to one Jesse Smith, of Biltown, by the reporter who attended a meeting of interested citizens who favored asphalt for the covering of a street in their section of the city, but which the city council had ordained should be paved with brick.

We were at once moved to anger and compelled by our rising choler to take our w. k. pen in hand and indite a mild protest at such unseemly and untrue statement. In the course of said statement we made certain references to the aforementioned Jesse Smith, together with divers and sundry individual comparisons. Believing we knew the kind of man who would utter such falsehoods as we were led to believe by the article Mr. Smith had made use of, we characterized or styled him as a "coconut headed statesman." We desire herewith and now to recall, take back and retract such statement. Jesse Smith called upon us yesterday in our sanctum and after introducing himself gave us the privilege of looking over and examining him from every angle and we rise to remark that Smith is neither "coconut headed" nor a statesman. Instead he is a sober-minded, well-balanced business man and a good fellow to boot. In fact he is an architect and builder of the finest pretzels that ever bore salt or accompanied a stein of lager, before that rantin', rarin' Andy Volstead swept down upon us from Minnesota's bleak moors.

Smith informed us he was misquoted from stem to stern of his remarks when he went to the bat for asphalt, and blamed our misinformation on the misquotation of the "fat-headed" (we'll never take that back) reporter who listened in and reported the talk.

Smith also said the street to be paved was in his end of Biltown, a residence section, and that the people out that way want an asphalt street because sheet asphalt when properly laid gave a smooth and uniform surface, was therefore capable of being easily cleaned and in addition to that was noiseless. In proof of the assertion that his neighbors wanted asphalt Smith presented us with a copy of Monday night's Williamsport Gazette and Bulletin, which has been conducting a popular or free-will voting contest on the question of the material to be used in paving the street, a blank ballot for this purpose being carried in that paper each morning.

The vote up to Tuesday morning showed 1247 recorded as favoring asphalt, while but 32 voted for brick.

Smith also said before leaving that

BOY, GET OUT THE GAS MASK; JOHN, CAL AND BOB ARE ALL GOING TO PUT OVER A HEAVY BARRAGE OF ORALITY

By H. K. REYNOLDS
I. N. S. Staff Correspondent.

Washington, July 30.—The country is to be administered an extra heavy dose of political "spellbinding" during the Presidential campaign. Plans announced in three leading Presidential camps—Republican, Democratic, and Progressive—indicated that stump speaking would be more popular this year than even during the campaign of 1922 when three tickets likewise were in the race for the White House.

In the La Follette-Wheeler camp particular stress is being placed on the mobilization of a veritable army of speakers. La Follette shortly will name a chairman of a Speakers Bureau, which will be set up in Chicago.

Not to be in the least outdone, Republican National Headquarters here declared that a host of speakers would be despatched into every state about the first week in September to carry on the campaign of President Coolidge and General Dawes.

Overture "Stradella" Will Be Feature Of Tomorrow's Concert

The American Legion Band will give another of their delightful and varied concerts at the Clearfield Park tomorrow evening, beginning at 7:30. The band will be under the direction of Prof. Thayer and the program mapped out at last night's rehearsals of the band will be pleasing to every musical taste.

One of the best numbers on the program will be the famous Plotow overture "Stradella" which has been one of the feature overtures of the band for several prize winning contests. It was played at the Picnic men's convention last year at DuBois and won for the band not only a first prize from the musical critic who judged the contest but round after round of applause from the audience.

Two Heart-Broken Fathers

Side by side sit these two heart-broken fathers—Jacob Franks (left) and Nathan F. Leopold Sr.—in Chief Justice John R. Caverly's court in Chicago, as the defense fights to save Nathan Leopold Jr. and Richard Loeb, confessed slayers of Franks' son, Robert, from the gallows. The strain they have undergone is plainly evident on the faces of both. The man on the right is a newspaper reporter, in constant telephonic communication with his office.

ODDS AND ENDS AND THINGS

By J. D. C.

President John Brophy, of District No. 2, U. M. W. of A., who is a member of the Executive Committee of the La Follette-Wheeler forces in Pennsylvania, and his fellow-workers in the Conference for Progressive Political Action have issued a call for a meeting of all the forces in this Congress District interested in the movement that has resulted in the organization of La Follette's Progressive party.

This meeting will be held in Reilly's hall on Third Street on Sunday, August 10th. Invitations to send delegations of two persons have been sent to every labor and Grange organization within the counties of Cameron, Clarion, Center and McKean, which make up the Twenty-third Congressional District and it is expected that there will be a large attendance at this meeting which will result in the perfecting of a working organization in every district in this four counties.

In addition to the Labor Unions and Grangers, the Ladies' Auxiliaries of such organizations will also be invited to send delegates to the meeting.

The call follows:

To Organizations of Labor, Farmers, Co-Operative Societies and other Progressive groups of the 23rd Congressional District, composed of Clearfield, Centre, Cameron and McKean counties.

Greeting—
The failure of the two major parties to advance or to conserve the interests of the great body of American people has united a large group of progressive forward looking men and women in the Conference for Progressive Political Action.

On July 4th and 5th, 1924, a National Conference met at Cleveland and endorsed the candidacy of Robert M. La Follette for President, and adopted a platform embodying these principles:

"Prompt ratification of Child Labor Amendment. Removal of legal discrimination against women.

Election of Federal Judges and abolition of injunctions in labor disputes. Curbing power of Courts.

Adequate laws to guarantee to farmers and industrial workers the right to organize and bargain collectively.

Repeal of the Esch-Cummins Law. Public ownership of railroads and water power. Conservation of natural resources.

Creation of a Government Marketing Corporation for farmers.

Promotion of public works in time of depression.

Reconstruction of Federal Reserve System and Co-Operative banking.

Surveys on large incomes; taxes on excess profits; on stock dividends and undistributed profits.

International action to outlaw war. Absolute prohibition and lavish expenditure on armaments.

On July 21, a State Conference for Progressive Political Action was held at Harrisburg at which time Burton K. Wheeler was endorsed as Vice-Presidential candidate to run with Senator La Follette. This conference

MaGruder of the United States navy, was keeping a weather eye upon the horizon along the rim of Houston Bay. The Admiral, who is in command of the American patrol ships strung across the North Atlantic had reported weather conditions favorable and he wanted to see the Americans safe at Kirkwall before any unexpected squall should blow up.

Will Follow Coast

Before leaving, Lieut. Smith told International News Service correspondents that he expected to go on ahead for us is the jump between Greenland and Labrador," continued Smith.

"We are bound to encounter ice in that desolate track of sea but we have weathered Alaskan blizzards and Asiatic monsoons so we feel more or less acclimated by any thing the North Atlantic may hold in store for us. We do not really fear the ice but we are anxious to see what effect it will have upon flying conditions.

"The plans of the United States navy and especially Rear Admiral MaGruder of the light cruiser and destroyer division, are as near perfect as anything human could be. I don't see how anything could pospendent at Brough that he expected to go on ahead. We aviators are all in perfect health and are keen for the adventure. We are willing to take a chance without taking a vain risk."

After Smith had concluded speaking he stepped into his plane. He waved his hands, took a huge bite out of a cake of chocolate he held in his hand and was off.

"Good luck, Yankee" cried a Britisher from the docks.

On both sides down along the river shore were stretches of wharves, quays and boats, pretty well filled up with spectators.

As two of the planes soared aloft a cheer went up from the spectators.

Milk Is Mother's Ally Helps Her Guard the Health of Her Family

Mothers—you are the guardian of your family's health—you are the one who is responsible for the health of your little ones, the growing children, the adults and the older folks who come under your watchful care.

Now, just the same as the Chinese pay their physicians to keep their patients well rather than attend them when they are ill, you should look to a diet which will keep your brood growing lustily, and the adults in good health.

If you will use more milk in your cooking—if you will place before your family, dishes in which milk is the dominating ingredient, you will find that, even though they may object to drinking milk as a regular thing, they will eat the dishes prepared with it with a relish.

The investigators have estimated that every child should have a quart of milk daily, and that every adult should have a pint. This can be accomplished easily if you will serve dishes in which milk is used freely in their preparation.

National Advertisers Boost Your Town!

Home Merchants Sell
Quality Goods Only!

But, alas and alack, there are some few small towns that have failed to measure up to the standard set by their fellow communities. Their waywardness generally is predicted on the basis of its inhabitants for mail-order buying. Every now and then some town finds itself engulfed in a wave of "buying from a catalogue." A few influential men and women start on a panicky orgy of buying all their goods from the out-of-town, from-the-city merchandise shippers, and like the sheep on the plains, who follow their leader knowing not why, all the other townsfolk "go crazy" as well. Unless this uncalled for, unnecessary and thoughtless draining of the town's finances is soon checked, we see the sad spectacle of a ruined community with the best merchants leaving the town, public improvements at a standstill, banks on the ragged edge, civic consciousness gone on a vacation, all business in the dumps and a discontented and unhappy citizenry.

And the sad part about this disintegration of towns is that the poor, deluded home folks "get stung" in two directions. Not only do they see their town and their business crumble before their very eyes, but they find that they have been paying exorbitant prices from the catalogue sharks for an inferior lot of merchandise. They find that when the town has been bled white by these city money-grabbers, the town is abandoned and left to die or be restored to life and prosperity by the influence of some community doctor, who knows how to put a ruined town back on its feet.

This doctor often succeeds because he makes the townspeople see the error of their ways and impresses upon them in strong terms the significance of community loyalty, of community co-operation and unified home-loving activities. He makes them see beyond the result of one day's trade and makes them appreciate that there is something else in life besides money-making and money-saving. He makes them see the significance of buying all their goods from the home-town merchants and of bettering community conditions from a moral and educational standpoint.

He makes them understand that there is no good reason why they shouldn't purchase all their needs from the home merchants. He talks through the town's newspapers and from the public forum in the following fashion: "Every community in the United States contributes to the privilege that Uncle Sam enjoys among the nations of the world. No class realizes this more than the big manufacturers of the country, who are also the national advertisers. They sell their trade-marked products to the small town merchants and then they back him up in his selling efforts by advertising liberally in the leading magazines and papers. They send the very best goods that they are capable of turning out to the shelves of the small town merchants because they know that the success of the small towns means their success. The reason is too obvious for extended explanation. The national advertising done by them is with a view to fixing in people's minds certain brands of merchandise so that they will ask for them and not accept cheap substitutes. The shelves, counter and bin of the home-town merchants are universally stocked with tested, nationally-advertised goods that have back of them the name and guarantee of the country's best and largest manufacturers. They are priced at the lowest possible figure, consistent with quality. Why, then, in the name of all logic, should you people send your cash in advance, out of town, for non-advertised, low quality, first-at-any-price stuff? You gain nothing and you lose all. You hurt your home merchant, which is a hurting

The building boom goes right on. Though construction has slackened in some cities and sections, the country as a whole continues to build in more than normal volume. Building permits issued in 328 cities and towns during the first six months of this year amounted to nearly $2,000,000,000, representing a gain of 8 per cent over the corresponding period last year. The permits for last month were 10 per cent higher than for June 1923.

Generally speaking, the smaller communities have caught up with their building first. The greatest activity now is in the larger cities. There is talk in many such cities of an impending slackness, but few actual signs of it. Building materials have dropped a little, but labor costs as much as ever, and in some places more.

Thousands of builders and home-owners would give a good deal to know how long this situation is going to last. Surely the building deficit for the country as a whole must be made up before long, at the present rate. Yet it may be that the old standards of housing, office quarters, factory facilities, etc., have changed so much that it is going to take a great deal more building of all kinds to satisfy the normal demand henceforth.

If this is the case, there can be no early prospect of lower building costs, lower rent and lower prices for completed structures. There may be temporary slumps—as there are this summer in some places—but many keen building men and real estate men say they cannot foresee much change in the situation for years yet.

Dorsheimer Brothers Apply For Release From Lancaster Jail

Gap, Pa., July 30. (INS.)—Chester Dorsheimer, of Harrisburg, and his brother, Benjamin, of Atlantic City, this morning filed habeas corpus proceedings to be released from the Lancaster county jail, where they are being held on a charge of murder following a hearing here yesterday.

A hearing on the request will be held either Friday or Saturday.

The brothers at yesterday's hearing before Justice of the Peace Chester A. Diller were jointly accused of murdering their parents, 14 years ago.

The 14-year-old charges were made by Frank, another brother, who lives in Coatesville.

He testified that his brother, Chester, told him at a meeting in Harrisburg in 1910 that he didn't mind killing his father, but he "hated to kill his mother."

It was intimated today that counsel for the defense will bring counter charges against Frank accusing him of attempting to blackmail his brother, Chester. Col. John M. Groff, counsel for the defense, said that Frank had written numerous letters threatening to "expose him if he didn't cooperate."

Progress Editorials for Women

By ELORENCE DAVIES

A baseball writer tells about a couple of star players who never "make it look hard."

Larry work, if that's the case. For a trick of making our jobs look hard ordinary, says this observer.

Well, some of our women who are "so awfully busy" ought to watch Larry work, if that's the case. For a lot of us have just as pronounced a trick of making our jobs "look hard."

Don't you know the woman who is always rushed to death, always busy, always overworked?

Her friends always say, "Bess is so rushed," or "Bess just wears herself out."

By the way, perhaps you are one of these people who work too hard, who are always on the go, who never have time to draw a breath.

Let's stop and take stock. Are you really so busy? Do you really accomplish so much more than other folks, or do you just "make it look hard?"

Perhaps you are overworked. There's a chance that you are. A good many women with no help and bad families really are "simply rushed to death" and it isn't mere words.

Some people even make walking look hard. It's pleasant and easier to make it look easy. The right way will make it seem, and actually be, just that.

Mount Gretna Sobers As Military Funeral Is Held For Private Hafer

Mount Gretna, Pa., July 30. (INS.)—The clackety-clack of horses' hooves as they galloped over the paved roads and the dull thud-thud as they sped over the beautiful green valleys and hills, echoed through the Mount Gretna district today.

Staid farmers laid down their tools in the fields to watch the well-drilled members of the 103rd and 104th cavalry as they sped past. And then, as a cantankerous mount broke file, and trampled mayhap a pet tomato plant, or brushed a rider against an apple tree, breaking a limb, shouts of righteous wrath mingled with the clanking of hoofs as the soldiers galloped on.

Orders to proceed at a gallop were frequent, to the sorrow and dismay of the recruits, who jogged from side to side and up and down on their mounts when at a walk, and shamelessly "pulled leather" when the pace was increased.

The road marches will be throughout the week.

Full military honors were accorded private Leroy W. Hafer, of Sunbury, the member of Troop E, 104th cavalry, who was fatally injured while practicing for a "Roman race" in which he was to represent his regiment in competition with the 103rd regiment's picked riders. He sustained a fractured skull and concussion of the brain when one of his galloping chargers stumbled and fell.

His body, in a flag-draped coffin, was carried past the ranks of his regimental comrades, standing stiffly at attention and placed aboard a train for his home.

All flags in the camp were at half-mast during the first military funeral services held here since the world war.

PENNSY-GRAMS

Pittsburgh.—With three new small-pox cases reported in the last 24 hours in Pittsburgh, plans are being made by the city health department to vaccinate all pupils when school opens in September. To date there have been 12 deaths from smallpox and approximately 70 cases.

Pittsburgh.—An unidentified man is in the Presbyterian hospital today in a serious condition. After seeking a room at a hotel on the North Side late last night he went to the lavatory and slashed his throat, according to police.

Greensburg.—Twenty women prisoners who were "imprisoned in the tower of the county jail here have been transferred to another part of the jail today. A bolt of lightning struck the tower last night, throwing the women into a panic. The tower clock was put out of commission but no other damage was done.

Pittsburgh.—Then its subsidiary, the Reick-McJunkin Dairy Co., of Pittsburgh, National Dairy Products has contracted to acquire ownership of the W. E. Hoffman Company, of Tyrone, Hoffman Brothers, Altoona; Hoffman and Runk, Philipsburg, and the Hoffman Ice Cream Co., Barnesboro.

Philadelphia.—Quick work by Miss Anna A. Austin, a debutante, saved the lives of Ambrose Condon and Tony Barton last night when she found them floundering in the Delaware river. After vainly trying to extricate them, the girl rushed to the nearest police station and summoned a squad of officers.

Philadelphia.—Playing "wild west" nearly cost Armillio Duranto, five years old, his life last night when his brother, Pasqual, shot him with his father's revolver. His condition is serious.

Philadelphia.—Federal officials are aiding in the fight against the swarms of Japanese beetles that flew across the Delaware river from the New Jersey side and are now raising havoc with local produce dealers here. The invasion is the largest ever experienced since the appearance of the pest six years ago.

SENATOR WALSH OF MASS., ENDORSED BY NEW PARTY

Washington, July 30. (INS.)—Senator David I. Walsh, Democrat of Mass., was endorsed for re-election today by the Progressive party.

The endorsement appeared in Labor, official publication of the party and the railroad Labor Union.

Curwensville's Own Column

Messrs Kemp Leib and Lew McKenrick, returned yesterday from a motor trip to Canada.

Misses Helen and Margaret Pano, are visiting their sister in Madera this week.

About 150 people of Sykesville, held a picnic here yesterday at Irvin's park. They all had a good time.

Misses Lula Mays and Jessie Pifer spent the week end here with their parents.

The members of the Grace Lutheran church will hold a picnic at Irvin's Park Thursday afternoon.

The infant child of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Victoria, died Tuesday morning, aged 2 months. The funeral will be held this afternoon. Interment in Oak Hill Cemetery.

Miss Marjorie Murray returned to her home on Ridge Avenue Saturday having spent three weeks in Lock Haven and Williamsport.

Mrs. Orvis Ardary and son Junior are visiting in New York City at present.

D. D. Rupert and family attended church service at Burnside Sunday.

Dick Lantz and family and Newt Caldwell motored to Clarion Sunday.

Jessie Pifer and Lula Mays, students of Clarion Normal, visited over the week end here.

Jesse Smith

In his reference to Clearfield's back streets, at the time that old "int-headed" reporter garbled his remarks, he made it plain that he referred to but a few squares in our town as being in bad shape, and again we agreed with him.

But don't those reporters, why can't they get a fellow right once in a while.

Brownsville, Pa.—Ten-year-old Oliver Taylor hunting frogs, fell into the reservoir and drowned before his younger brother, Jack, could fetch him.

Greensburg—Normally she is "kind to dumb animals," but when a pigeon built a nest and laid an egg right in the center of a white counterpane on the guest-room bed, one of Greensburg's most favorably known housekeepers sent in her resignation as a member of the Audubon Society.

BASEBALL DOPE

The Blue Ball Terrors lived up to their name and struck terror to the hearts of Manager Gus Tyson and his Clearfield Sewer Pipe Sluggers in a twilight game at the local park last evening. The game ended 12 to 8 in favor of the team from Blue Ball.

Defeated but undismayed and hoping for better luck next time, Manager Gus and his "sluggers" gave a grand ball in the union building at the park following the ending of the ball game. A large crowd was present and enjoyed the evening immensely. The financial condition of the team was somewhat improved as a result of the affair.

The local Red Men also met the Grampian Giants at the park last evening. The Red Men failed in their efforts to scalp the visitors, while, by the same token, the visitors were unable to get away with the Indians as the game ended in a tie, each team having three runs to its credit.

EPWORTH LEAGUERS ENJOY EKEE

About 50 members of the Epworth League of the West Side M. E. Church and their friends packed to "Spooky Hollow" on the Pooze farm above Paradise last evening and spent the evening in the open. A program of games kept everybody busy until the fire was built, when "eats" called for disposition. A routing sing around the fire ended the festivities and the happy crowd had tracked to town. Trekking over a deeply rutted road at night brings all sorts of thrills so that the Leaguers enjoyed the return trip as much as the camp fire.

102-MISC. LEGAL

TRUSTEE'S SALE OF REAL AND PERSONAL PROPERTY
THE QUALITY BAKERY
At the Court House, Clearfield, Pa. Friday August 8th, 1924, at 1:30 p. m. J. T. Murphy, Trustee of the Quality Bakery, fully constituted as such Trustee by deed of Olin C. Barger and wife dated November 22, 1923, and recorded in Clearfield County in Deed Book 265, page 216, will offer at public sale, at the front door of the Court House in Clearfield, Pa., on Friday, August 8, 1924, at 1:30 p. m., all the real and personal property constituting the Quality Bakery and consisting of the following:

1. All those two adjoining lots of ground situated in the Third Ward of the Borough of Clearfield, County of Clearfield, and State of Pennsylvania, known in the original plan of West Clearfield as lots No. 4 and No. 5, bounded and described as follows:

On the East by River Street, on the South by an alley; on the West by an alley and on the North by an alley. Being one hundred ten (110) feet front on River Street and two hundred (200) feet in depth, and being the same premises which were conveyed to Olin C. Barger and William E. Spackman by deed dated September 1, 1922, recorded in Clearfield County in Deed Book 255, page 413, and which by said Olin C. Barger and William E. Spackman were conveyed to J. T. Murphy, Trustee, by the deed of trust before mentioned.

Said lots being sold subject to the following liens: Mortgage of Olin C. Barger and William E. Spackman to Matthew Savage, now owned by H. L. Forney, dated September 9, 1922, recorded in Mortgage Book 72, page 178, the principal amount due thereon being the sum of $1900.00; Mechanic's Lien in favor of Effie Ferguson, Administratrix of Paul Ferguson, in the principal sum of $400.00, the same being entered in the Prothonotary's Office in Clearfield County on Mechanic's Lien Docket No. 6, page 428; Mortgage of Olin C. Barger and William E. Spackman to J. T. Murphy dated September 21, 1923 and recorded in Mortgage Book 76, page 143, for the principal sum of $7700.00.

The said real estate has erected thereon one concrete block building and includes one oven and furnace.

2. All the interest of the lessee in and to a certain lease for the lot of ground situated on Nichols Street in the Borough of Clearfield, Pa., on which is now erected the store building used in the business of said Quality Bakery, said lease having been made by Hartswick Smith to Olin C. Barger and William E. Spackman the 15th day of October, 1920, for a period of five years from November 1, 1920.

3. All the personal property of every kind whatsoever used in the business of said Quality Bakery and constituting a part thereof; including particularly one building erected on the leased premises above mentioned, one oven, one wrapping machine, one sifter, scales and mixer, one bread moulder, baskets, bread pans, troughs, racks, roll divider, work bench, cake mixer, adding machine, safe, store fixtures and other miscellaneous personal property; there being bailed leases outstanding as to various items of said personal property, and only the interest of the lessee in such items being offered for sale.

4. All the accounts receivable, bills receivable, cases in action, rights and credits of every kind and nature whatsoever of the said Quality Bakery.

Notices of administration of the above Estate having been granted to the undersigned, all persons indebted to the said Estate are requested to make payment, and those having claims to present the same, without delay, to JOHN ANTOL, Administrator, C. T. A. Sterling, Pa. 7/29/24 angry and he pounded his fist in his hand as he spoke.

Judge Caverly Has Decided to Hear Alienists

Judge Caverly broke in on him. He cited the case of a man named Rosen, who killed his wife a short time ago, and came up before him for sentence. Alienists in that case told Judge Caverly that Rosen was "on the border line of insanity" and he appointed three of their number to examine him. A plea of guilty was finally accepted and Rosen was sent to the state prison for the insane. The court said that was a precedent.

Crowe refused to agree to it and kept referring time and again to the statute. "It is mandatory, your honor," he shouted again and again.

"It is true, Mr. Crowe," said the court, "that when these boys pleaded guilty to this crime, the court accepted their pleas of guilty as sane men."

"But if evidence of their mental state is not to be taken, how is the court to know whether they were competent to plead guilty? Certainly I have a right to know whether these boys are competent. I cannot allow the attorneys here to waive the rights of these boys."

"Whenever, gentlemen, in the opinion of this court these boys are insane, the court will instruct the withdrawal of their plea of guilty, and the entering of a plea of not guilty."

"There are various forms of insanity," continued Judge Caverly.

"Not under the law," interrupted Crowe. "A man is either sane or he is insane. It is conceded for the sake of argument that insanity is a defense in this case. Have these boys any right to a defense in view of their plea of guilty? Have they the right to introduce testimony bearing on their mental state?"

"Yes," reiterated the judge and the defense attorneys in unison.

"These boys are not going to be allowed to plead insanity as a defense in this case," went on Judge Caverly, "but this court certainly has the right to hear all the evidence in this case."

"This court is not going to hear the question of sanity and insanity here."

"Yes, but the tendency is—" began Crowe.

"Oh, then you go again with tenor," interrupted the court.

"The court has said that it does not intend to hear the question of sanity and insanity here."

"If there is a question of sanity in this case it will be tried by a jury. But you can't escape the question of sanity or insanity," objected Crowe.

"Well, we will try to," said the court.

The argument continued into the afternoon and the statutes, the state attorneys contending that under the laws of Illinois there was no other alternative for the court but to call a jury if the alienists were to be allowed to describe the youthful murderers as abnormal, queer, and of tainted moral and mental state.

The court listened patiently, interrupting now and then with a remark as to what the supreme court had said in such cases.

The famous Gene Geary case was cited. Geary was a notorious south-western gunman, who shot a policeman, and was sentenced to death. His attorneys contended that he became insane while awaiting execution and his case so that Geary is now in the state hospital for the criminal insane.

"Yes," said Judge Caverly, "and if Geary ever reaches sanity again it will then be the duty of the criminal court to set the date for his execution."

Crowe contended there "can be no mitigation in a crime as atrocious and brutal as this."

He asked sarcastically whether Leopold and Loeb had killed young Frank "in self-defense," or "in a state of rage," or "in a drunken brawl."

"No," he declared, answering his own questions.

"They took him out deliberately and a lie for no motive at all except brutality. In such a case there can be no mitigation."

"The question before this court is," remarked Judge Caverly, "have I the right to hear all the evidence in this case, or have I not?"

At the end of an hour the argument was in progress. The judge's bench was piled high with luminous law books, and the state's attorneys were reading excerpts from precedents and authorities. The principal spokesman for the state by this time was "Tom" Marshall, the authority on precedent expert of the state's attorney's office.

Darrow injected a word now and then, reiterating "we are not trying to plead insanity."

"You are setting up a plea of insanity under another name," said Marshall, "call it what you will."

"It is the state's contention this case is outside of the field of defense; it is not within the field of mercy. Why should they not hang?"

"We have the right," countered Attorney Bacharach, "to submit anything in the way of medical, mental, or pathological condition of these boys."

Sylvia Breth left today for Johnstown where she will visit a school friend for the next three weeks.

to the court for the court to weigh it as he will."

Time and again State's Attorney Crowe returned to the Illinois statute to which he originally referred, contending that Judge Caverly is without power to admit the testimony of the alienists.

"Any time there is a question of sanity or insanity," he said again and again, "the law is mandatory that your honor call a jury to determine that question."

"Oh, there you go again on the question of insanity," said Judge Caverly, throwing up his hands. "How many times does the court have to say that there is no plea of insanity."

"The court has the right to hear any evidence of mitigation in this case bearing on the mental responsibility of these boys."

"I don't know what the defense is going to do. I only know that they want to put a medical man on the stand to testify in the case. After it's all in, then I will consider it. No one knows what effect it will have."

Crowe asked Judge Caverly if he was not attempting to assume the prerogatives of a jury.

"Your honor is attempting to say that the plain words of the Illinois statutes do not mean what they say," Crowe declared. "Any judgment rendered by this court under these conditions will be void, and if Mr. Darrow takes the case to the supreme court, I will confess error."

"The court cannot help what you and Mr. Darrow do," said Judge Caverly.

"This is a waste of time, an hour and a half. The court is willing to listen to reason, or to any authority, but the court does not know of any authority which says that it cannot hear in mitigation any testimony touching on the case. It's ridiculous."

The argument was still going hot and heavy at 1:30 the hour usually set for a five minute recess and Judge Caverly stopped it and announced the usual set period would be observed. The lawyers remained in front of his bench arguing, but the judge retired to his chambers.

When the recess was over, Marshall, of the State's Attorneys office continued to read authorities in defense of the state contention. Caverly listened quietly.

A NIGHT BLOOMING CERUEUS

One of those rare occasions which come but very seldom in the lives of some plants will be celebrated at the store of the Blacker Floral Shop some time tonight.

It will be the blossoming of a beautiful night blooming cerueus, one of the specimens in the shop. There are at least half a dozen buds ready to break and it looks as if tonight's THE night. The public is cordially invited to witness this rare event.

Mrs. Bruce Paterson and son, William Logie, arrived home from Ocean City.

HONORED FINE OLD LADY

Ramey, July 28.—A family reunion was held at the home of Mrs. R. A. Fox on Saturday, July 26, 1924, in celebration of the 80th birthday of Mrs. Fox. This good lady has spent about all her four-score years in this locality, where she is loved and respected by all who know her. She possesses all her faculties practically unimpaired and appears more like a woman ten years younger than she really is. Wonderfully active, she seems to grow younger with each passing year.

She was the mother of ten children, three of whom have been called to their reward. Of the remaining seven all were present except one daughter, Mrs. R. A. Croyle, of Atlantic City.

DUBOIS GOLFERS HERE

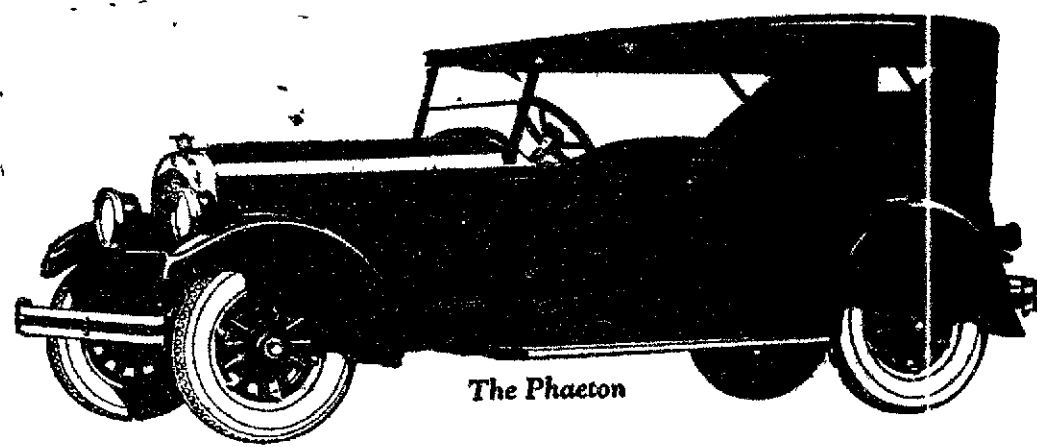

Twenty-eight members of the Golf team of the DuBois Country Club, with their assistants, retainers, camp equipage, etc., came over to Clearfield this afternoon and are jousting with our devotees of the club and brashie at the beautiful Clearfield-Corwenville Country Club grounds. Following the series of games dinner will be served. A large gallery of friends of the two teams are witnessing the games.

CANT BLAME THE CADDIES

The twenty caddies who went along to the golf tournament in Altoona enjoyed it very much. They did their full duty and it was through no fault of the caddies that Altoona won over Clearfield.

Guy Spackman and family from Black Lick, Indiana Co., spent the week end with Mr. Spackman's parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Spackman on Ogden avenue.

These Results Mean Value Never Before Expected

The Phaeton

Never before was a car so wisely engineered and so carefully built to assure maximum safety and long life. This is true even to the tires. Designing from the ground up for balloon tires, with pivotal steering, special spring suspension and extra wide fenders, Chrysler engineers working with the tire makers have now evolved a special six-ply, high-speed balloon tire that will stand up and wear as long as your cord tires, and still contribute all the resiliency of ordinary balloon types.

The Touring, $1395 The Phaeton, $1495
The Roadster, 1625 The Sedan, 1725
The Brougham, 1895 The Imperial, 1995
All prices f. o. b. Detroit, tax extra.

In less than six months, more than 15,000 buyers have chosen the Chrysler Six because of the things it does, and the way it keeps on doing them with a minimum of upkeep cost.

Never before the Chrysler Six did a stock car afford 70 miles an hour or better, plus riding comfort not equalled even by heavy, costly cars.

Your Chrysler Six will actually carry you in comfort over cobbled streets or rutted roads at speeds up to 60 miles an hour. This because of three main features: its perfect balance, its special spring suspension which prevents side-sway, and its special six-ply, high-speed balloon tires.

We are pleased to extend the convenience of time-payments. Ask about Chrysler's attractive plan.

JORDAN'S

PHILIPSBURG IS HERE TOMORROW WITH BIG THIRST FOR REVENGE

The Philipsburg baseball team will meet the local C. & C. League team at the Clearfield Park tomorrow afternoon at 3:30 and as this is the first Thursday game in three weeks the fans should show their appreciation by turning out to the game. The boys are now playing at top speed, as will be attested by the fact that they swept the deck clean, winning every game played the past two weeks, and this good work should be appreciated by a full turnout of the fans.

Philipsburg is coming over thirsting for revenge. They will be accompanied by "Alibi Ike" McCabe, the new sports and news editor of the Philipsburg Ledger, and the only reporter extant who has the rind to blame the umpire for defeating his pets in a 12-2 game. Jack has hoped right out of the coal business into the editorial chair and will henceforth delve into gems of thought while his more rugged and more horny-handed neighbors attend to "dusky diamond" production.

The locals have been strengthened by addition of four new men. They are "Bicken" Norris and Olson of Curwensville, and Batchelor and Reid of Glen Richey. Two of the new men are catchers and can play either in or outfield, while one is a first baseman and one an outfielder. Norris is an ex-Dickinson player, while Batchelor, a local high graduate, has been playing baseball at State College.

MRS. GEORGE L. LEIPOLD

Mrs. Anna Benn Leipold, widow of the late George L. Leipold, one of Clearfield's oldest residents, died at the home of her son, Dr. Frank D. Leipold on Thursday morning, July 24, 1924, following an attack of jaundice which became complicated with other organic trouble. She was aged 78 years and 10 months.

Her death came as a great shock to her family and many friends to whom she was endeared. Despite her age, prior to her last illness, which was of four weeks duration, she was alert, keen of mind and active in the pursuits of life, appearing as one many years younger. She possessed a fine christian spirit, a kind and sweet disposition, always concerned about those near and dear to her, and never spoke ill of anyone. She was a life-long and devout member of the Lutheran Church and was active in religious church work. Her presence acted as a ray of sunshine to her loved ones, therefore her death cast a gloom over her family and friends.

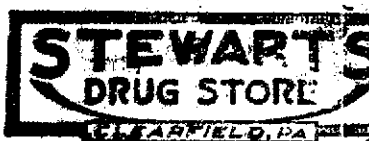

Deceased was the only daughter of John B. and Nancy Benn, who died 29 years ago. She had four brothers, two of whom died several years ago, and two still survive, C. M. and Leroy Benn, of Westfield, Pa.

When a young woman she came to Clearfield with her parents and on Nov. 4th, 1872, was united in marriage with George L. Leipold, who preceded her to the grave just 18 months ago. To this union two sons and one daughter were born. In addition to the two brothers named, she is survived by one son, Dr. Frank D. Leipold, of Clearfield, and one daughter, Mrs. V. N. Herbst, of Mt. Union, Pa., the eldest son, Dr. Bert E., having died in 1917.

The funeral took place on Saturday afternoon at 3 o'clock, interment in the family plot in Hillcrest cemetery. The Rev. J. W. Shannon, D. D., of Mt. Union, Pa., for several years her pastor, officiated.

Was a "Bear Cat"

"My wife was never an angel, but after five years of liver and stomach trouble she became a 'bear cat' No doctor or medicine helped her and we thought there was no help for her. Our grocer told me of Mayr's Wonderful Remedy, which had helped him for same trouble, so I brought home a bottle, but she promptly threw it out. I got it back and after a week coaxed her into taking it. She is now enjoying the best of health and disposition." It is a simple, harmless preparation that removes the catarrh from the intestinal tract and allays the inflammation which causes practically all stomach, liver and intestinal ailments, including appendicitis. One dose will convince or money refunded. At all druggists.

VACATION BIBLE SCHOOL GRADUATION

Will be held tomorrow evening in Trinity Methodist Church. More than 350 boys and girls will participate. The program is one of the most varied and interesting that could be built. And the interest in the exercises has been maintained by both teacher and pupil. The evening promises to be filled by the most charming events and the most entertaining and instructive exercises. It will hardly be necessary for any special invitation to be given the public, when so many young people are interested. Their friends will be out in force. That is the reason Trinity Church was made the center of events for the school at its graduation—to accommodate the crowd. A silver offering will be asked for the picnic expenses.

What a great work this has been. Faithful have been the teachers. They have had an enthusiasm that has been cumulative. Then Prof. Ross has given the best of himself to the school and its oversight. But the one that has given it the largest care and the fullest service has been Rev. C. K. Gibson, of Eleventh Street Methodist Church.

The school with teachers and committees will leave the Presbyterian Church at 10 for a day in Irvin Park, returning at 5 in the afternoon. This is the picnic for which great preparations have been made and greater expectations have been in the minds of the young people. Those who have the credit of attendance are listed to go for this big day. Parents and friends of the school and its members will go up in their own way. Reuben Neveling and his committee provide transportation for the school.
